

Dear Highlanders of the Rebels Clan!

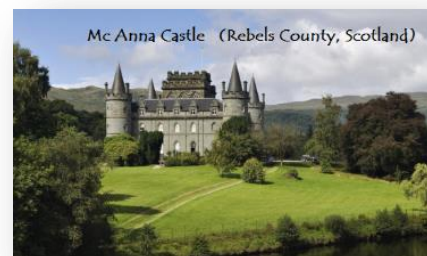

Finally the long awaited answers to all your questions ...

1. Where is Mc Anna Castle ... ?

Mc Anna Castle befinds itself in "Basseilles", which is a part of the county of "Tenneville". Hereby you find a very clear and simple waydescription:

After +/- 1 mile ...

Official address: Basseilles 2, 6970 Tenneville

2. What should you take with ...?

Attention : this is the final and definitive list, that replaces the earlier list!

For sleeping

- a sleeping bag per person (and a pillow for the softies ...)
- a "hoeslaken" per person (for a one person bed)
- some persil and a good gas mask (*) (and this time not because of Assurancetourix ...)

(*) the picture below gives you an idea of the type of rooms and beds ...; you will notice that unfortunately those fg Englishmen have recently destroyed all the inside doors of the bedrooms of Mc Anna Castle ...

For the drying of used eating materials

- 2 "handdoeken" per adult (to dry off the washed dishes, spoons, knives, forks, glasses, etc)

Shoes

- Good shoes for in the woods
- Boots might be useful as well, especially if it continues raining (what happens a lot in Scotland)
- Sportive shoes as well
- "savatten" in order to not render the pub too dirty

Other instruments

- An asshole knife

Top gear stuff

- Solid buggy's for the little childrens
- Carrying bag (to carry little childrens on the back or on the belly)

Fun

- company games for in the local Scottish pub at night
- those who have iron balls (in French they call it "petanque") can bring them with as well
- some things where the childrens can occupy themselves with, especially when it should rain (what happens a lot in Scotland as you know); for example: draw material (paper and so on), company games, a ball to play football, rugby, badminton materials, ...
- those who have a guitar and can play on it can bring it with (to avoid the rats from approaching) and if possible some texts of Scottish withsingsongs (or even Irish is allowed as well; the have had the same problems with the Englishmen)
- Facultative: a memory stick with your selection of best songs with which you think you will impress everybody (but if the songs don't please to the other pub gangers, you will be kicked out of course); by the way: those who manage to bring with (well known) songs of Scottish singers (f.i. Jimmy Sommerville) will be very welcome; that speaks for itself
- the ones that have the film "Brave" at home, can maybe let their children watch the movie this week, so that they become really in the Scottish mood ...

Various things

- only in case it should really really really too lot rain, it would be better to be prepared for the flood, so you should provide swimming trunks (=zwembroek) + a "cap" (!) (=badmuts)
- Lots of money (in billets of 10 € preferably, otherwise we can't guarantee that you get money back, f.i. if you give us 20 € or 50 €) to pay the drinking licences ("zuipkaarten") that cost 10 € per piece
- No fear but rather courage and balls
- One special beer glass (style Duvel or Trappist) per adult (except the ones that don't drink special beer.

Some important practical stuff

Kilt

Needless to say that the dresscode during the whole weekend is kilt, as well for the men, the women and the childrens of course.

Arrival – departure

Arrival is on Friday 3rd April 2015 as from 18.30 PM (European time); if you are sooner, no problem of course for us, but possibly the former owner of Mc Anna Castle won't let us in (we can wait outside in the woods).

Departure is on Monday 6th April 2015 before 15.00 PM.
