"Think of the Dewey Decimal System. You look up a book you want, you might find something else of interest right beside it. Way cool for more than a century. With Dewey, we can stumble upon things that will help us. Same with Cyndi. We go to the subject in question and look around. It's a great way to discover new sources." --Dave O.

"If you've never used Cyndi's List, get over there and check it out. When I began researching over 15 years ago, the site was shared with me by my friend and mentor, Birdie Holsclaw. What a treasure trove!" --Cari T.

"Cyndi's list is a sledge hammer for brick walls. Your site has lead me to find great resources just clicking around." --Karen P.

"You've been the compass in the wilderness guiding us through..."

Databases: Searchable Online

This category was one of the first created on Cyndi's List in 1996. At that time there were a handful of searchable databases online, so highlighting them in their own category made sense. Now it is a different story, so today this category highlights a few of the types of databases available online with links to relevant categories elsewhere on Cyndi's List.

1876 Mar 2, Pius XII [Eugenio MGG Pacelli], 260th Pope (1939-58), was born to an aristocratic Roman family accustomed to serving the Catholic Church.

(SFEC, 9/26/99, BR p.3)(SC, 3/2/02)

1876 Mar 4, US Congress decided to impeach Secretary of War (under Ulysses S. Grant) William Worth Belknap (1829-1890) of malfeasance in office for accepting over $24,000 in bribes from a post trader seeking immunity from removal. It is not clear whether he was aware of the arrangement or whether his wife had made the bargain and accepted the payoffs. Nevertheless, he was impeached by a unanimous vote of the United States Senate, though at his formal trial the Senate fell short of the number of votes required to convict. By then he had resigned, which doubtless accounted for his acquittal. He died in Washington, D.C. on October 13, 1890 and was buried in Section 1 of Arlington National Cemetery.

(SC, 3/4/02)(www.arlingtoncemetery.net/wwbelkna.htm)

1876 Mar 7, Patent #174,465 was issued to Alexander Graham Bell (1847-1922) for his telephone. In 2008 Seth Shulman authored "The Telephone Gambit," the story behind Alexander Graham Bell's 1876 telephone patent #174,465. Shulman made a case that Bell stole the critical technology for making the telephone work from Elisha Gray, who had filed his own papers just hours after Bell.

(SFEM, 1/11/98, p.12)(HN, 3/7/98)(AP, 3/7/98)(WSJ, 1/16/08, p.D10)

1876 Mar 8, Franco Alfano, Italian opera composer (Il dottore Antonio), was born.

(MC, 3/8/02)

1876 Mar 10, Alexander Graham Bell made what was, in effect, the first telephone call. He found a way of converting words into electrical current and back again and sent his first message using his new variable-liquid resistance transmitter. Bell's telephone caused the current to vary smoothly in proportion to the pressure created on a microphone by human speech and got a patent. His assistant, in an adjoining room in Boston, heard Bell say over the experimental device: "Mr. Watson, come here, I want to see you."

(I&I, Penzias, p.97)(CFA, '96, p.42)(SFEM, 1/11/98, p.12)(AP, 3/10/98)(HN, 3/10/98)

1800-1900 | 19e eeuw

Als historici het hebben over de negentiende eeuw, spreken zij vaak van de 'lange negentiende eeuw' als kenmerkend tijdvak tussen de Franse Revolutie (1789) en het begin van de Eerste Wereldoorlog (1914). In deze eeuw ontwikkelt de wetenschap en technologie zich met rasse schreden, wat zorgt voor een materialistische levensbeschouwing en een geloof in de vooruitgang. De eeuw begint met de machtige Napoleon Bonaparte.

Napoleon Bonaparte
De Fransman Napoleon Bonaparte (1769-1821) was één van de belangrijkste politieke leiders uit de moderne tijd. In 1799 pleegde hij een staatsgreep en in 1804 riep hij zichzelf uit tot keizer van Frankrijk. Als leider bezorgde hij Frankrijk een dominante positie in Europa. Na de mislukte veldtocht naar Rusland in 1812 viel de machtsbasis van Napoleon echter in elkaar. Eerst werd hij naar het eiland Elba verbannen, om vervolgens – na de Slag bij Waterloo in 1815 – naar Sint-Helena gestuurd te worden. Napoleons hervormingen zijn vandaag de dag nog steeds erg belangrijk.
